

CONTENTS

| | |
|--------------------|---|
| Contributors | 7 |
|--------------------|---|

Felix Wörner, Ullrich Scheideler, and Philip Rupprecht

| | |
|-------------------|----|
| Introduction..... | 11 |
|-------------------|----|

TONALITY AS CONCEPT AND CATEGORY

Joseph Auner

| | |
|---|----|
| Weighing, Measuring, Embalming Tonality: How we Became Phonometrographers..... | 25 |
|---|----|

Richard Cohn

| | |
|--|----|
| Peter, the Wolf, and the Hexatonic Uncanny | 47 |
|--|----|

Wolfgang Rathert

| | |
|---|----|
| The Legacy of German Rule: Some Reflections on Another Musical Iceberg in the Transatlantic Relationships of Music History | 63 |
|---|----|

Hans-Joachim Hinrichsen

| | |
|---|----|
| Concepts of Tonality in Hindemith's Unterweisung im Tonsatz and in His Late Writings..... | 81 |
|---|----|

TONALITY IN AUSTRO-GERMAN THEORY

Markus Böttgermann

| | |
|---|----|
| Concepts of Tonality in Schoenberg's Harmonielehre | 99 |
|---|----|

Stephen Hinton

| | |
|--|-----|
| Schoenberg's Harmonielehre : Psychology and Comprehensibility | 113 |
|--|-----|

Felix Wörner

| | |
|---|-----|
| Constructive and Destructive Forces: Ernst Kurth's Concept of Tonality | 125 |
|---|-----|

PRACTICES OF TONALITY

Marianne Wheeldon

Defending Tonality: The Musical Thought of Milhaud
and Koechlin 143

Mark Delaere

“Autant de compositeurs, autant de polytonalités différentes”:
Polytonality in French Music Theory and Composition of the 1920s 157

Volker Helbing

Nocturne in Blue, Black and Poppy Red: Tonal and Formal Dramaturgy in the Third Movement of Ravel’s Sonate
pour violon et violoncelle 173

Alain Frogley

Tonality on the Town: Orchestrating the Metropolis
in Vaughan Williams’s A London Symphony 187

Ulrich Scheideler

Between Archaism and Modernism: Tonality in Music
for Amateurs in Germany around 1930 203

Philip Rupprecht

Among the Ruined Languages: Britten’s Triadic Modernism, 1930–1940 . . . 223

Beth E. Levy

Roy Harris and the Crisis of Consonance 247

Daniel Harrison

Samuel Barber’s Nocturne: An Experiment in Tonal Serialism 261